EDUCATION PROGRAM

DEPARTMENT OF NUCLEAR POWER PLANT ENGINEERING

INTRODUCTION

The Department of NPP Engineering offers a comprehensive graduate-level program covering all aspects of a nuclear power plant project starting from the design and certification phase, through the operation and management, all the way to decommissioning. Our program provides students with theoretical as well as practical training that enables them to lead NPP projects in their countries.

Most of our students are employed professionals who have worked for over three years in nuclear power-related corporations or companies, in either the Republic of Korea or other countries. After completion of the two-year (four-semester) program at KINGS, students graduate with a Master's Degree in Nuclear Power Plant Engineering. Students may pursue a Master of Engineering (ME) or a Master of Science (MS).

In their first year, students take a number of courses covering different areas of NPP Engineering (e.g. design, construction, project management, safety analysis, radiation protection, decommissioning, and waste management). In their second year, students specialize in one of those study areas, through team projects that combine engineering and management aspects of an NPP project. This prepares our students to take up global leadership roles in the energy organizations of their countries.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY POLICY & ENGINEERING

INTRODUCTION

Energy policy is a complex process, where economics, environmental protection, and sustainability issues are interconnected. The Department of Energy Policy and Engineering offers a curriculum that builds capability to understand and solve problems which can arise from such a complex process in an integrated way. The program is designed to foster global-level energy policy decision makers and executives who understand both theory and practice through lectures, practical training, and sharing experience with colleague students from various fields, including electric power companies and overseas public institutions.

The department operates a two-year program: the energy policy and engineering courses in the first year at KINGS, and the thesis/individual project report research program at the student's affiliated institution in the second year. Students can earn a Master of Engineering (ME) or Master of Science (MS) from KINGS.

Not only are projects becoming more complex, but are also developing a digital technologies aspect in their workflow. To help students prepare for such advancements, KINGS offers courses in Big Data, Python programming and Artificial Intelligence/Machine Learning.
