This does not apply for shipments of radioactive materials if the same operator is also a holder of license for the transport of radioactive materials and the condition under Section 5, par. 4 is met.

9) The commissioning phase and the operation of a nuclear installation, as well as the decommissioning phase of a nuclear installation involves also handling of nuclear materials, transport and management of spent nuclear fuel, or transport and management of radioactive waste and transport of radioactive materials. The operator does not need to conclude an extra insurance or arrange a special financial security for the transport and management of nuclear material, the spent nuclear fuel or radioactive waste if he already has an insurance policy or another financial security for the existing nuclear installation that is under commissioning, in operation or in the decommissioning phase.

10) The funds provided from insurance or from the financial security shall be provided solely for the purposes of compensation of nuclear damage. Funds provided by the insurance or from the financial security cannot be used to pay for damages to a nuclear installation or any property located on the site of such nuclear installation, which is used or to be used in connection with this nuclear installation, or on the means of transport, which at the time of the event transported radioactive material that caused the event.

11) If none of the authorized persons according to par. 5 provide insurance, the operator shall provide financial cover for the liability up to the liability limit under Section 5, par. 1, 2 or 3 in full by financial security.

resulted in nuclear damage, there is a settlement and eventual full or proportional additional payment for all claims made.

7) The right to compensation for nuclear damage is barred, if the injured party or the heir of the injured party, or the legal successor of the injured party, who suffered nuclear damage, did not exercise his right to compensation within three years from the date when he learned or could have learned about the nuclear damage and about who is responsible for it.

8) The right to compensation for nuclear damage shall cease if not exercised not later than ten years from the date of nuclear incident, which resulted in nuclear damage.
